Chew-ing on a piece of grass,

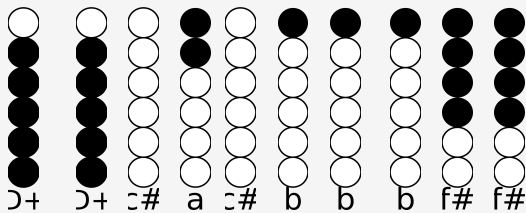

walk-ing down the ro-ad.

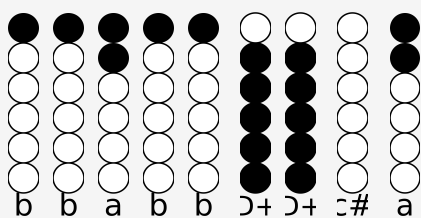

Tell me, how long you gon-na stay here, Joe?

Some peo-ple say this town don't look good in snow. You don't care, I know.

Ven-tu-ra High-way in the sun-shine, where the days are long-er, the nights are strong-er then moon-shine. You're gon-na go,

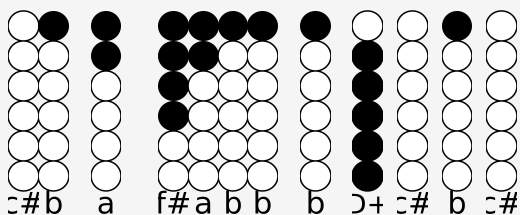

I k-n-o-w. 'Cause the free wind is blow-in'

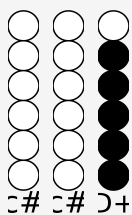

through your hair and the days sur-round your day-light there. Sea-sons cry-ing no de-spair, al-i-ga-tor liz-ards in the air, in the air.
